The Bicentennial Capitol Mall State Park is located in the shadow of the State Capitol in downtown Nashville. It gives visitors a taste of Tennessee's history, natural wonders and serves as a lasting monument to Tennessee's Bicentennial celebration. Park Rangers are available to conduct organized tours of the park, give programs to large groups and answer questions from park visitors.

Various monuments represent Tennessee's unique history and honor Tennessee's endeavors. From the 200-foot granite map of Tennessee and the thirty-one fountains representing the State's major rivers to the Pathway of History and the 95-bell carillons, visitors can experience all aspects of Tennessee's history.

A World War II Memorial honors the veterans and the 5,631 Tennesseans that were killed in combat. An 18,000 lb. granite globe that floats on 1/8" of water displays lines from a small map of Tennessee to various places across the world representing the great distances traveled by Tennesseans during the global conflict.

The park also features a 2,000-seat amphitheater that provides dramatic views of the State Capitol building. The amphitheater was designed after the Greek theater at Epidaurus and may be reserved for a fee.

Located in the front of the State Capitol, between James Robertson Parkway and Jefferson Street and 6th and 7th Avenues. Exits on Interstate are marked "Bicentennial Mall."

Access Fees may apply. Call park for details.
